MORGANS SOLD.

The Battell Horse Auction Brings
Large Number of Buyers.
Prices Run Low.

Thirty-five Morgan horses, bred and owned by the late Joseph Battell, were sold at auction Tuesday for $5962.50. The attendance at the sale, which was held at the Battell farm, was large, about 250 persons following every bid with interest. A number of ladies were in attendance and seemed to admire the Morgans greatly. The buyers included well known horsemen and breeders, among others W. S. Tod of New York, C. A. Stone of Boston, H. R. C. Watson of Brandon, a representative of C. C. Stillman, Secretary of the Morgan Horse Club, and Dr. M. R. Crain of Rutland.

Popular interest centered in Scotland, the favorite of Mr. Battell and the winner of many first premiums. It was realized that sentiment had influenced Mr. Battell in valuing Scotland so high, but it was expected that the bids would run over $1000. Only two men made offers for him and he was sold to Mr. Herbert J. Brown of Portland, Maine for $800. Mr. Brown is President of the Berlin Mills Co. of Portland and the owner of several farms and much fine stock. He will keep Scotland at Falmouth Fourside, a large estate a few miles from Portland, where he has a stud of Arabian horses. Mr. Brown was represented by Mr. James B. Lunt, who remained in town to make arrangements for the shipment of Scotland to Portland. Middlebury and all Vermont are sorry to see the horse leave the State.

Mr. C. A. Stone of the well-known banking firm of Stone and Webster, Boston, who was present at the sale, was an enthusiastic bidder, and secured some fine horses, Robert Bruce at $455, Green Mountain $405, Motion Jr., $255, Nocturn $300, and two promising fillies, Topsy and Joan of Arc at $110 each. Mr. Stone's stock farm is at Plymouth, N. H.

Mr. W. S. Tod of New York proved himself a keen judge of horseflesh and carried away some of the prizes of the sale. He was the purchaser of Victory $375, and the beautiful yearling Morgan General $105, Marguerite, a famous brood mare, $150, Roxy Gates $290, and Beauty $300, which he will keep at Greenwich, Conn.

Mr. H. R. C. Watson of Brandon bid on only one horse, the two year old filly Heather, which he secured for $300.

Dr. M. R. Crain of Rutland was the purchaser of two stallions, Highland Lad $380 and Bay State $155.

Several of the purchasers from a distance made arrangements with Mr. Patrick McMahon and the Battell estate to have their horses kept for the present at the Battell farm. Mr. McMahon was the recipient of numerous compliments for his management of the horses.

Examination of the list shows that several of Mr. Battell's horses will remain in Middlebury and vicinity, a number of local men securing well bred stock at low prices. The estate refused to sell several of the horses at the going prices and will retain for the present Ben Lomond, Vermont, Skylark, and Vermont Jr., besides a number of horses for use in the Broad Leaf farms and livery.

The complete list of the sale is as follows:—

NOTICE TO

ADDISON COUNTY FARMERS.

The County Agricultural Agent, J. E. Carrigan, is "on the job." His headquarters are to be at the home of Mr. W. N. Cady, Middlebury. At present he is making a "get acquainted" tour of the county. He will visit the towns as rapidly as possible, remaining in each town one day, meeting as many farmers as possible and lining up men for demonstration work. He will publish each week in each newspaper in the county the program which he expects, as nearly as possible, to carry out the following week. For the week beginning April 25th, his program will be as follows.

Monday, April 26,	Weybridge
Tuesday, April 27,	Waltham
Wednesday, April 28,	New Haven
Thursday, April 29,	Vergennes
Friday, April 30,	Bristol
Saturday, May 1,	Middlebury—office.

The agent will visit the county association committeeman in each town on the day designated above. Anyone especially desirous of conferring with the agent should so inform said committeeman before the day on which the agent is to be in town.

The county association committeeman in each town to be visited is as follows: Weybridge, Elmer L. Wright; Waltham, H. W. Day; New Haven, C. E. Palmer; Vergennes, R. G. Woodbridge; Bristol, Ralph Denio. Saturday, May 1, will be "at home" day and the agent will be glad to have any or all of the farmers coming to Middlebury call on him.

First Ball Game Won.

Middlebury College won the first ball game of her schedule for 1915 by triumphing over New York University on the grounds of the latter yesterday by a score of 7 to 6. Aylward and McLaughlin were both given a chance in the box and each allowed only three hits. The team was given a reception by New York alumni following the game.

Ray L. Fisher won a brilliant game for the New York Americans over the Philadelphia Athletics Wednesday. The score was 8 to 0. It was Fisher's second game and second victory this season.

Seymour House Inscription.

In making repairs at the Battell-Seymour house at the corner of Main and Seymour streets an interesting inscription was found. This house was built for Hon. Horatio Seymour, U. S. Senator from Vermont and grandfather of the late Joseph Battell. The inscription reads:—

"Elisha Kellogg of Weybridge Master builder of this house for Hon. Horatio Seymour—Adolphus Bangs assistant Carpenter and Smith Kellogg apprentice. It was finished in 1816, that cold year of famine all over New England Dark Spots Seen on Sun Corn did not ripen in Vt that cold year for seed even. Rye and beans good crop."

Benefit of Sidewalk Fund.

Tickets are now on sale at Frost's Drug store for the musical comedy "Uncle Hi in Boston" and it is expected that an unusually fine entertainment will be given. The committee in charge and the managers are making every effort to give the people of Middlebury the best that can be done.

Young ladies of the High school have spent the long, pleasant afternoons of their vacation hard at work rehearsing in the town hall. Little girls have faithfully appeared every day to learn their parts in the songs and dances. Still others are giving evenings to the work. Will not everyone help by making a special effort to attend this entertainment?

Better singing and dancing, handsomer costumes and electrical effects than any amateur performance Middlebury has ever seen will reward the people for their help and co-operation. Two nights, Thursday and Friday, April 29 and 30. Proceeds to go to the Sidewalk fund.

Prof. Kellogg to Return.

Dr. Brainerd Kellogg will return to his old position as instructor of commencement speakers this year. He will arrive in town May 15 and get to work on the Parker and Merrill candidates immediately. Prof. Kellogg had thought he was through with this work, but the recent victory in the legislature and other good fortunes of the College have renewed his youth, and good speaking at commencement is assured.

High School Honors.

Honors in High school for the class of 1915 have been awarded as follows: Valedictorian, Miss Marguerite Dyer; salutatorian, Miss Mary Bliss; high honors, Miss Marguerite Dyer, Miss Mary Bliss and Miss Mildred Day; honors, Miss Mildred Whitney, Miss Anna Novak and Miss Mae Tracey.
